Election 2004: County

What you should know if considering a run for office

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

Just a little over a month remains to file nominating petitions in the Democratic and Republican races for all Crawford County elected positions on the August 3 Primary election ballot. The deadline is May 11 at 4 p.m.; independent candidates have until July 15 to file for the November 2 general election.

The offices of Sheriff, Clerk/Register of Deeds, Treasurer, Prosecutor, Board of Commissioners (seven members) and Road Commissioner (one member) are all up for election in 2004. All positions serve four-year terms, with the exception of county commissioners who serve for two years at a time and road commissioners who serve a six-year term.

Candidates for county office must be at least 18 years of age, a registered voter in the county, but not necessarily a property owner, and a U.S. citizen.

For the last three years, no elected official has received a salary increase. Although the Crawford County Compensation Committee has recommended pay increases, the County Board of Commissioners has unanimously agreed to forego any increase due to budget constraints.

All administrative and department head salaries have also been frozen. The 2003-2004 county salary schedule states these elected officials earn the following salaries: Sheriff - $47,360, Clerk/Register of Deeds -$42,230, Treasurer - $42,230, Prosecutor $82,000, Commissioner (Chair) - $7,700, (Member) Commissioner $7,000, and Road Commissioner - $4,500. There is no reduction in salary for newly elected county officials.

All positions are full time jobs, with the exception of the County and Road Commissioners, although members of the county board would argue their jobs entail many hours of meetings at the county building and as liaisons to county and regional agencies.

The sheriff manages the county's law enforcement agency, including the jail. He or she is responsible for the budgets of the administrative office, road patrol and corrections.

The clerk/register of deeds is the keeper of all county records, including death, birth and marriage certificates, as well as property deeds. The clerk is also the chief elections officer of the county and chief clerk for the Continued on Page 16A

City water and sewer rates inch higher

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

The Grayling City Council approved a small increase to the city's water and sewer rates on Monday, March 29.

At the council's March 8 meeting, City Manager Allen Lowe said the city's water and sewer fund – a fund that is supposed to be self-supporting through user fees, by law – finished the latest fiscal year in the black for the first time in several years.

"But we do need to address water and sewer fees," he said.

Lowe said the city should consider increasing its rates, in part because the city's auditors recommended the city put money away for future expansion of the system.

"The new meters are helping,"
Councilman Roger Moshier

(The city installed new water meters a few years ago in an effort to collect more accurate readings.)

City Treasurer Terry McGregor said revenues for the current fiscal year for the water and sewer fund are down a little bit. "People are conserving," she said.

Special Olympian selected for world games

A journey that began 13 years ago on the bunny slopes at Hanson Hills Recreation Area in Grayling will take a local athlete to the mountain resort of Nagano, Japan next year to compete in the 2005 Special Olympics World Winter Games.

John Paul "J.P." Ludwick, age 24, was selected to represent Team USA in the alpine skiing competition. He is only one of seven Michigan athletes selected for the trip and is the only male downhill skier from the state.

Special Olympics is a worldwide program offering sports training and competition to individuals with cognitive impairments.

J.P. became eligible for selection based on a gold medal performance in Level 2 Giant Slalom at this year's State Winter Games, held in February at Schuss Mountain. The world games are scheduled for February 26 - March 5, 2005. Special Olympic athletes will use the same venues used for the 1998 Winter Olympic Games. Special Olympians representing 80 countries will be on hand for the competition.

The number of athletes expected to compete numbers 2,500. The other Michigan athletes will be competing in snowshoeing and Nordic skiing. Competition will also be held in speed skating, snow-boarding, figure skating and floor hockey. The Special Olympic World games are held every four years, with the previous Winter Games held in Anchorage, AK.

J.P.'s travel will actually begin before heading to Japan, as he will attend a Team USA training camp at Copper Mountain Ski Resort in Colorado in early December. In addition, he has already begun a training program of walking, stretching and strength training stretching and strength training.

J.P. is a student in the COOR-

ISD Adult Transitional Program in Roscommon. He has participated in a variety of Special Olympic events over the years, including swimming, soccer and basketball. However, downhill skiing was the first event he ever trained for and the one he has competed in on a regular basis.

His current classroom teacher, Mary Kleinert, and his job coach, Jane Croze, were his first ski coaches in 1991 when he started in Special Olympics.

White in Japan, homesickness should not be a problem as many members of J.P.'s family are already making plans to travel to see the competition. His parents, are Paul and Cindy Ludwick, who reside in southern Crawford County. Paul serves with the Michigan National Guard at the MATES facility at Camp Grayling.

J.P. has five siblings, including a younger brother, Terry, who is currently serving in Iraq with the 1438th Engineering Unit out of Camp Grayling. Terry, who is an avid skier, said he is excited about a chance to help J.P. with his training when he returns home later this summer.

The local Special Olympics program, Area 4, must raise $4,500 to send J.P. to the World Games. Special Olympics does not receive any funds from the government or school districts, so all of it must be raised within the community.

Any individual, service club or business who would like to assist in sponsoring J.P. may contact the Director of Area 4 Special Olympics, Mike Eva, at (989) 821-9658.

Also, collection cans have been placed in businesses around Grayling and Roscommon for those who would like to help J.P. through donations of change. Every little bit helps pay his way to Nagano in 2005.

Plans being finalized for scrap tire cleanup

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

Plans are coming together for a huge effort to collect old scrap tires from every corner of Crawford County.

"Everyone needs to know this free-of-charge old tire collection is a one time deal," said Lee Riley, Beaver Creek Township Supervisor, who is heading up the cleanup. "So, this is a great time to get rid of those old tires laying around in the garage or on your property."

The cleanup is being funded for the most part by a $4,000 environmental grant approved by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners last month through its Environmental and Recycling Fund. No county general fund monies are being used. Matching funds have been made of at least $100 each from the county's six townships, as well as from the City of Grayling.

In the past, the county has accepted tires for disposal, from residents only, for a small fee on Household Hazardous Waste Day.

Garage fire sparks a challenge for fire fighters

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

Four local fire departments and Department of Natural Resources fire fighters were called to a garage fire in a local mobile home community, but the fire soon spread to neighboring woods and other structures.

Grayling City and Township Fire Chief Duane Brooks said the initial dispatch came at 3:48 p.m. and members of his department were on-scene within nine minutes. Brooks said a garage on Crestwood Drive was found in flames and an adjacent wooded area was also on fire.

Neighbors called 911 when they saw smoke coming from the garage then alerted the residents of the fire. Brooks said those inside the mobile home were unaware that the garage was on fire, but got out of the home before it was consumed, thanks to the quick actions of their neighbor. Both the garage and mobile home were total losses. About two acres of trees, brush and grass were also scorched. A garage on one side of the fire scene, as well as another mobile home on the other side, received radiant heat damage, said Brooks. Another mobile home was severely damaged when an apparent gas explosion blew the windows out of the structure and caused another fire.

Plans being finalized for scrap tire cleanup

This year, tire collection will again coincide with Household Hazardous Waste Day scheduled for June 19, but Riley said those individuals or business owners who have more than eight tires for disposal must contact their respective township or the city in order to obtain a letter from the municipality stating such. And tires will be accepted on the rim at no cost as well.

Each request for disposal of a large amount of tires, especially by businesses, will be considered on a case by case basis.

To verify the number of tires, either the township supervisor or someone from zoning will make a site visit. This will enable those coordinating the effort to estimate how many tires will be collected county-wide and determine who needs help getting their tires to the collection site, which has yet to be named.

Riley said he is working closely with Grayling Township Supervisor Terry Wright, who is seeking a centrally located site with a large parking lot. A vendor has already been located to haul away the tires collected that day for proper disposal.

Volunteers, either individuals or groups, are needed to help round up the tires that some residents may not be able to haul themselves, or bring tires in from cleanup sites groups are working

Riley would like to hear from those willing to volunteer for this project as soon as possible at the Beaver Creek Township Hall, (989) 275-8878, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. weekdays.

"We will be issuing community service letters for those high school students who request them and who come out to help," Riley said.

The tire collection is solely for the residents and businesses in Crawford County. Those wishing to dispose of tires will be asked for verification of address with their driver's license or if a property owner is licensed elsewhere, with a tax bill or some other documentation verifying the property's parcel number.

Any questions about the collection or volunteering may be directed to Riley, Grayling Township Supervisor Terry Wright, South Branch Township Clerk Laura Smith, or City Councilman Roger Moshier.

Council approves sign ordinance

► New set of rules for signs in the city became effective April 5

by Caleb Casey Staff Writer

Following more than a year of creation, discussion, and revision by members of the City Planning Commission, Grayling City Council, a special sub-committee, and the city attorney - and following several public hearings - the proposed City of Grayling Sign Ordinance was ratified by the city council with a 3-1 vote last Monday.

The sign ordinance provides a set of rules for size, appearance, placement, and use of signs within the city limits.

The planning commission created the first draft of the ordinance and the document underwent several stages of revision, going back and forth between the planning commission and the city council. In November of 2003, the city council appointed a sub-committee to refine the ordinance and bring it back to the council for a possible vote. The sub-committee presented its draft to the city council at the council's March 8 meeting.

March 29 regular meeting, the at later meetings as needed. city conducted another public hearing on the sign ordinance. Citizens and council members raised several questions and concerns, touching on political signs, yard/garage sale signs, real estate signs, permits, fees, vehicle signs, enforcement, and overall need for a sign ordinance.

"As we all know, this has taken a lot of work. We feel the sign ordinance is necessary and we're trying to make the best one we can," Mayor Joe Ferrigan said.

After closing the public hearing, Councilman Roger Moshier moved to send the sign ordinance back to the sub-committee in order to incorporate the input received at the public hearing. Councilman Larry Akers provided the motion with a second.

"I think we got good input from the community tonight," Moshier said.

Councilperson Kim McClain

said, "Lagree with a lot of what was said tonight," but she also expressed a concern that the ordinance "will never be passed." McClain spoke in favor of pass-Last Monday, at the council's ing the ordinance and revising it

The vote on Moshier's motion to send the ordinance back to the sub-committee failed 2-2, with Moshier and Akers voting "yes" and Ferrigan and McClain voting "no." (Councilman Dennis Palmer was absent.)

McClain moved to approve the ordinance as presented (with a few minor clerical corrections), and Ferrigan provided a second.

"I have a problem passing this tonight without accepting the input from the people tonight," Moshier said.

"I didn't come here tonight expecting to approve it," Akers said.

BP robbery suspect sentenced

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

Following a guilty plea early last month, one suspect in the December 14, 2003 armed robbery of a local gas station was sentenced on Monday by 46th Circuit Trial Court Chief Judge Alton T. Davis.

Daniel Latesky, age 30 of Grayling, learned April 5 that he will serve 6 1/2 to 15 years in prison for his role in the predawn robbery of the BP gas station in Frederic Township where about $70 was taken by a suspect wearing a ski mask who threatened the clerk with a handgun.

Police found a plastic toy handgun and a ski mask in a vehicle he and alleged accomplice, Kelly Jo Pratt, were riding in when stopped by a Grayling City Police officer in late January.

Latesky fled from the vehicle but was apprehended days later. Pratt remained in the vehicle and gave information to police regarding crimes she and Latesky allegedly committed in the area.

Latesky was also sentenced to nine to 23 months incarceration for a probation violation, to run concurrent with the robbery sen-

Pratt, 29 of Grayling, stood mute at her arraignment in circuit court on Monday. A not guilty plea was entered on her behalf on two counts of second degree home invasion, one count of armed robbery and one count of intent to pass a false motor vehicle title. All charges are felonies. Trial dates have not been set in Pratt's case.

Suspect in longtime alley dispute sentenced

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

A Frederic Township man, found guilty by a jury on January 21 on three assault charges, has been sentenced in 46th Circuit Trial Court.

Michael Joseph Nagy, age 50, was sentenced April 5 on three counts of assault with a weapon, stemming from an August 8, 2002 incident when he allegedly threatened to shoot three of his neighbors following a longtime dispute over the access rights

show up at a sentencing hearing March 8, therefore Chief Judge Alton T. Davis appointed James Deamud to represent Nagy at sentencing.

Before the April 5 court date, Blum resumed his representation of Nagy.

Davis sentenced Nagy to one year in jail with credit for 42 days served and placed on probation for two years. He was ordered to pay $180 state minimum court costs, $180 to the Crime Victim Rights Fund and $300 in circuit court costs.

Nagy could have been sentenced to four years in Nagy's personal attorney, Murray Blum, failed to prison and/or a $2,000 fine on each assault charge.

Correction

In the article entitled, "What you need to know if considering a run for office," published April 1, 2004 in the Crawford County Avalanche, the day of the week the Grayling Township Board of Trustees meets was misstated. MILLIONS OF WORDS already have been written about Mel Gibson's blockbuster movie, "The Passion of The Christ", so a few more won't make much difference one way or another.

Mr. Gibson has done a masterful job in bringing this story to entranced audiences across the country.

Most important is that as a "cradle Catholic" I have been exposed to the story of the passion of crucifixion of Christ for at least 70 understanding

Thus to me, the Gibson movie is just that: It is a movie. The story and the characters are very familiar to me, as they are to any long time Christian.

It seems to me Mr. Gibson has taken many liberties with the written Gospels which tell the original story of those days, and has fleshed out some blank spots in the narratives with his own version of how things might have been. Any other screenwriter would be entitled to similar leeway in any other version of the Passion, and in other movies about the life and death of Christ, they have.

Mr. Gibson at root is relating an historical story -- of Jewish religious leaders dealing with Jesus, and Romans administering their form of governance -and trying to interlace Christian religious feelings into the history.

To reach the spiritual meanings of Christ's life and death, more flashbacks showing the softer and teaching sides of Jesus would have helped.

I thought the brutality of the Roman soldiers was way overdone, and their repeated beating and jeering of the condemned Jesus dulled the overall effectiveness of the movie's direction.

AS A MOVIE, "The Passion of Christ" has been marketed brilliantly. It opened on Ash Wednesday, and throughout the 40 days of Lent leading up to Good Friday and Easter Sunday, it's still running strong in theaters throughout the country.

The pre-release publicity campaign, involving clerical controversy and premiere showings to select church and public leaders, hyped the opening. Many churches and religious groups bought out entire theaters for the opening of the film, and in some cases for pre-opening treatment. Even Pope John Paul was induced to "endorse" the film ....or so it was claimed.

The marketing plan -- including sales of several "Passion" related gimmicks -- such as nails and thorns and books and pictures -- also detracted from any "holy mission" that might be inferred.

DOLLAR RETURN on the film has been spectacular. Reportedly "Passion" cost about $30 million to make. Box office in its first five days of release was more than $125 million, and the film has been in the top ten money makers each week since it opened.

"The Passion" yet has world markets to hit, as well as its almost certain annual return to American screens. The money mill will keep rolling in.

All of these factors keep reminding me of the simple fact that after all, "The Passion of The Christ" is first and foremost a movie.

It very well may be something more than a movie to many people, but that, of course, depends on each one individually.

The Gibson film admittedly has sparked new interests where none have flourished. Week after week, churches hold discussion groups, and people get together by themselves to discuss "The Passion of The Christ".

This is all good. Let us hope these interests will Mel Gibson's movie did a good job of telling the story of the passion and crucifixion of Jesus Christ. In my book, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John did it even better.

Grayling Township officials' pay another April Fool's story?

To the editor,

I thought I was reading another April Fool's story on pay for three elected officials of Grayling Township, for knowledge, time on the job and just being wonderful people. We taxpayers of Grayling Township can pay you more than others seeking the same

(Re: "Election 2004: Townships - What you need to know if considering a run for office," published April 1, 2004.)

As an elected official myself, I find this hard to understand. Every elected person takes a job based on a value for services rendered and should be the expectation of the office, not based on time in the position.

I have 30 years of management experience and what Grayling Township is saying is they like my expertise in management, but I would be taking the job at $10,000 less than the current supervisor. Something is wrong in this thinking. I, for one, am troubled at the effect this will give our township and on finding quality people to seek public

This has nothing to do with elected officials in these positions now as I believe each does a wonderful job and our township has shown progress in Crawford County. Please keep up the good work.

Animal neglect case has not been forgotten

To the editor,

In the fall of 2002, I noticed someone on Old 27 in Beaver Creek Township had put up makeshift pens in which they were keeping chickens, ducks, rabbits, etc. There was a camping trailer on the property, but no one lived there.

After a while I found out the owners lived downstate in the city of Burton and came up some weekends. She had inquired at knew of someone who could take care of these animals. The shelter staff informed her they did not know of anyone.

I brought this up during several township meetings, and the township board said county zoning would take care of that because the ordinance states you told. must have a residence and live in it if you want to have any animals.

I wrote to the property owners, but they did not respond. Sometime during the winter, the animals disappeared but in the spring of 2003, they once again had animals caged in. I went to a and if she did, she would not be couple of the County Board of Commissioners' meetings and was told they would look into the problem.

In May of 2003, I received a phone call from our township treasurer. She said since I had repeatedly spoke up about the Old 27 property, would I like to meet her and her husband over there. I went to meet them.

The property was strewn with the Animal Shelter if someone dead chickens. Two or three rabbits were found dead also. There was not a drop of water anywhere. These people had literally left them caged only to die of thirst. They had also called the owners, who said she would come up the next week and did not believe what she was being

> A call was also placed to the Crawford County Sheriff's Office. They could not respond because they were shorthanded due to a fire. The Animal Control Officer was called, but she could not come because she was out of hours for the week

They then called 7 and 4

News, who said they would come out and they did. The coverage was on the news that night at 11 p.m., May 15, 2003. The next day, everyone had time to come out and see what was going on, said it was a criminal act and that they would follow up.

I went to the county zoning office and was told the situation was being looked into, but things take time. They were less than enthusiastic because Beaver Creek was in the process of preparing their own zoning.

I found out that Deputy Dean Goss was placed in charge of the case so I met with him on June 27, 2003 to find out what was going on. He said he had talked to the neighbors, but they declined to get involved and he did not know there had been any witnesses. I told him of the events of May 15 and filled out a witness statement as did the other two. He thanked me and said he would file his report.

On July 21, 2003, Deputy Goss called me to let me know his report had been turned over to the Prosecutor's Office.

At the September meeting of the Beaver Creek Township Board, I asked Sheriff Kirk Wakefield if he would check on the progress of the situation and he said that he would. He called the next day and told me he could not find any paperwork but that he would have his secretary go through the log to see if she could find it. She called me back and asked some questions and said she would get back to me.

It is now April 2004, almost one year since the famous TV news story and I guess everyone is still searching for an answer. Meanwhile the snow is melting here in the north country and soon they will be able to cage up some new animals to torture.

No, I have not forgotten. I have done everything I could...

precious to us as Peter said in 1 Pet.

Living Love

The world hates the gospel of Jesus Christ because they only see hatred and violence in the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. It makes the world uncomfortable because the death of Christ proves the extent of human depravity and injustice. But when Christians see the cross of Jesus Christ they see the love of a living God. As Christ said in John 3:16: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." As John revealed to us in 1 John 4:9, 10, 19: "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. 10Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. 19We love him, because he for all. "By his own blood he entered first loved us.'

The living love of God at Calvary stands out even more when it is contrasted with our sinful lives. "But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. 9Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him. 10For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.' (Rom. 5:8-10). As Paul said in 2 Cor. 5:21: "For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.' The world sees only hatred and violence in the blood of Jesus Christ, but Christians see God's love for us. His blood shed for our redemption is

1:19: "the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:" God purchased us with His own blood. (Acts 20:28). His blood is our propitiation. (Rom 3:25). His blood is our justification. (Rom 5:9). His blood is our redemption. (Eph 1:7). His blood was shed for our forgiveness. (Col 1:14). His blood is our access into God's presence. (Heb 10:19). His blood is our sanctification. Heb 13:12). Jesus Christ is our prophet, priest, and king who washed us from sins in His own blood because He loved us. "And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood." (Rev. 1:5). The loving sacrifice of the blood of Jesus Christ obtained our redemption once and in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.'

(Heb. 9:12) So Christians do not worship a dead Christ, but a living God of love. When people talk about other religious leaders it is usually in the past tense. They ask "Who was Buddha? Who was Osiris? Who was Mohammed? Who was Juno? Who was Horus? Who was Apollo? Who was Venus? Who was Confucius? But when they ask about Jesus Christ they say, "Who is Jesus Christ?" They ask "Who is Jesus Christ?" because He is the living God! Romans 1:4 tells us Jesus Christ is ".Declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:" As Jesus Christ said in Rev. 1:18: "I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.'

The resurrection sets Jesus Christ apart from the thousands of human gods around the world. It is in the resurrection of Jesus Christ God proved His power to save us. "And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe. according to the working of his mighty power, 20Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, 21Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: 22And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, 23Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all." (Eph. 1:19-23). As Peter said in Acts 4:12: "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Pastor

Please pray for God's blessings upon the ministry of this column and our church Website http://www.i2k.net/-cba .We at Calvary Baptist Church invite you to learn more from the Bible about Jesus Christ. Join us in a verse by verse study of the gospel of John each Sunday.

Middle Eastern exchange students Rahaf Zakaria, Hadeel Daloul, Thaer Al-Madhoun, and Mohammad Al-Makhafi spoke to about 250 students total at Grayling's high, middle and elementary schools on March 21.

Four Arab exchange students found cold weather but a warm welcome during a weekend visit to Grayling, March 21-23.

Through a State Department grant to foster cultural exchange and understanding, the ASSE International exchange program brought the four Middle Eastern students to the Grand Rapids area for one school year. All are practicing Muslims who earned security clearances and are living with American families.

Their short visit to Grayling was arranged by local resident Cathy Lester, a member of the Crawford County Peaceseekers anti-war activist group.

That evening, the exchange students spoke to about 60 people at the Devereaux Memorial Crawford County Library, followed by a buffet of Arab dishes. The food was a big hit, with a number of people requesting recipes for the savory cuisine. The two Palestinian teens also had to field some uncomfortable political questions, which they

The program was launched in 2003 with $210,000 in grants and funding support from the US DOE, DTE Energy and General Motors. Students from 50 schools in 21 Michigan counties are now participating. The startup funding from the DOE has expired and the schools are now tinue the program for the coming academic year beginning in September.

"This is a program designed to introduce the topic of renewable energy resources, particularly solar energy, to students in grades 4 to 8," said Fred Shell, DTE Energy vice president. Corporate and Governmental Affairs. "Not only does it meet Michigan's MEAP objectives. it's also an opportunity for communities, school boards and parent associations to have their schools addressing vital, current topics."

GLREA provides participating schools' teachers with a training seminar, educational materials, demonstration kits and support for delivering the program effectively. The interdisciplinary program covers science skills, such as gathering, analyzing and comparing data, experimenting and calculating; language arts skills such as collecting information and communicating; math skills such as measuring, graphing, estimating and calculating; and social studies skills such as problem solving and analyzing historical

There are various levels of sponsorship for the program and GLREA says it is a great way for community organizations and businesses to partner with their local schools.

"It would be a shame to see the program fall by the wayside," Shell said. "DTE Energy has been on the forefront of alternative energy development - from electric vehicles to solar energy to fuel cells and now the hydrogen economy - and people's awareness of our potential energy independence will make a difference in all of our futures."

Individuals, companies, organizations and local Chambers of Commerce can sponsor any of the current schools or other public or private Michigan schools for SolarSchools 2004. GLREA hopes to expand the program to 50 additional schools across the state. Crawford AuSable Schools is in need of sponsors.

In loving memory of

Lorrie Decker Miller 1963-1993

When we lose someone we love,

It seems that time stands still.

What moves through us is A silence, a quiet sadness A longing for one more day. One more word, one more hug. We may not understand why You left this earth so soon, Or why you left before we were Ready to say good-bye. But little by little, we begin to Remember not just that you died, But that you lived. And that your life gave us Memories too beautiful to forget... We will see you again someday, In a heavenly place where There is no parting. A place where there are no words That mean good-bye. If tears could build a stairway

And memories a lane,

I'd walk right up to Heaven

And bring you back again.

Love always, Dad, Mom Decker, Cyndi, Doug, Andrea, Brittany Yanniello

LINK BETWEEN CHRONIC ANKLE PAIN & TENDON DAMAGE Tears in the tendons around the ankle are a commonly overlooked cause of chronic ankle pain. The peroneal tendons surround the ankle joint and may tear from a severe pain or other injury. But because these tears often occur in conjunction with sprains and ligaments damage and are not visible on X-rays, they frequently go undiagnosed. The patient relieves treatment for the primary injury but suffers persistent pain. The good news is the MRI exams reveal tendon tears, and surgery to repair them is typically successful. A recent study published in the Journal of Foot & Ankle Surgery showed that 98 percent of patients who had surgery to repair tendon tears head positive outcomes an d returned to normal activities. At GRAND TRAVERSE FOOT &

ANKLE CENTER, P.C.we've been specially trained to diagnose the fractures, strains, sprains and other problems that can happen to your feet. Don't rely on home diagnosis to determine what is wrong. Turn instead to the professionals who have had years of education and experience treating injuries, conditions, diseases, and deformities. That's what we do best here at 1209 E. 8th Street, Traverse City. When your feet are giving you trouble, give us a call at 922-9100 & 800-968-7440. #### TO: AUSABLE PRIMARY CARE P.C. PATIENTS

Most of you are probably aware that my office suite at 1200 N. Down River Rd., Grayling, MI, was damaged extensively on February 10, 2004, by fire. Medical records were either destroyed or severely damaged in the blaze. At this time I am uncertain when and where I will reopen my practice in the future. If you have an emergency call 911. I advise all patients to seek alternative health care at this time with other providers in the area including Suzie Blachard FNP, Dr. Todoroff, or any of the Mercy Health System providers in the area. For urgent medical needs go to the nearest medical facility or emergency room. I have made arrangements with local pharmacies to fill prescriptions daily as needed by patients. I will continue to do this through April 9, 2004. Any remaining refills you have will also be honored.

With the assistance of Mercy Hospital and West Branch Regional Medical Center I will soon be receiving copies of all tests and labs completed since mid-January so that I may contact you regarding results and further followup. Because our billing system was located off-site I will be receiving a complete patient list with phone numbers and addresses soon. I apologize for the inconvenience this situation has caused you, especially those of you who traveled to the office for appointments after February 10, 2004, because you were not aware of the fire.

It has truly been a privilege and a pleasure to be a part of your health care team. I have enjoyed learning more about you and your families. My spirit continues to be lifted by your cards, letters, and calls encouraging me to continue the practice of medicine in spite of everything that has happened the past several years. Your continued support is very motivational and certainly greatly appreciated.

If you need assistance or you have further questions you may call my answering service at (989)366-4360 and they will contact me.

Sincerely Laurey R. Hanselman D.O. Rose and Dianne

New business deals in old money... and new

by Susan Warrington Staff Writer

His fascination with old coins began when he was in third grade after a classmate brought in a blue Whitman folder with three 1943 steel pennies. After that Roger Martin, owner of the Grayling Coin Shop, started reading about coins and has continued to study and learn as much as possible about coins.

Although this is his first coin shop he also conducts business on e-Bay, so he already has gotten some experience in the business.

Because he sells on the internet, Martin says he needs to find more coins to keep up his inventory and hopes many people will bring in their old coins for evaluation and possible sale. He cautions that just because coins are old it does not necessarily mean they are valuable, but their value can be determined by examination and checking with various resource books.

Martin has a wide variety of coins in his shop as well as various ways to protect coins such as coin tubes, display sheets, and two by two holders. He also has some older coin books for collecting specific coins and a map of the United States for collecting the quarters currently being minted.

He carries copies of the 2004 coin collectors book which gives an indication of the value of various old coins.

Martin said that he is willing to help people with their collections but does not plan to conduct any classes on coin collection. He mentioned he would be willing to visit classrooms to talk about coin collecting.

Through the month of April, Martin will give a newly minted Michigan quarter to anyone who stops in to say "Hi." However, he adds that anyone under 16 must be accompanied by an adult in order to take advantage of the offer.

The Grayling Coin Shop is in the Gamble Building at 234 Michigan Avenue. The shop will be open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6p.m.

For more information, Martin may be reached at (989) 348-8309 or toll-free at 1-866-33COINS (26467).

Lake affected by ice sportsmen leftovers

by Susan Warrington Staff Writer

While people who use Lake Margrethe during the winter have not left a lot of debris and shanties on the lake, the problem seems to be on the increase, according to some Lake Margrethe property owners.

This year there is at least one shanty which is believed to be sinking into the lake. This has resulted in a case which is moving through the court at this time.

Debris has also been found on the ice and in some cases wasn't noticed until it was impossible to remove it safely.

Debris, such as heating cans, food wrappers and even diapers, will cause harm when it sinks to the bottom of the lake. They are pollutants. Anything new introduced into a lake has a potential for changing it - including leftover fishing bait.

debris stays in a semi-submerged state, it becomes a serious hazard for boaters.

Although the Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association has planned a spring cleanup of the lake, it may be impossible to retrieve some of the debris which has fallen to the bottom.

Lady Huskies finish third at state championship

The Northland Lady Huskies their 2004 Special ended Olympics basketball season with a third place finish at the senior state championships held in Grand Rapids, March 19-21.

The squad, made up of players from Grayling, Roscommon, St. Helen and Houghton Lake ended the season with an overall record of three wins and eight losses.

The Grayling athletes on the squad included Dawn Whaley, Desiree Felver and Cassie Merrithew. The local squad was seeded in Division 2 and opened the event with a game against Farmington. The squad fell behind 14-4, and despite a valiant comeback effort, ended up losing 32-30.

The next opponent was Bay City, a team what had already defeated the Lady Huskies three times this season. This time, it was the Lady Huskies who jumped out to a quick 10-4 lead. However, the locals could not keep up the intensity against the much taller team and fell by a score of 37-28. Whaley helped the attack with a 6-point performance. That loss sent the ladies home with a third place finish.

Back from his winter hibernation

Smokey Bear came out of hibernation last week in front of the Grayling Fire Station on the 1-75 Business Loop in Grayling. Spring fire season is now upon us, with extremely dry conditions in grassy and wooded areas all around the county and northern lower Michigan, even after recent rainfall and snow melt. Residents and visitors alike are asked to be very careful with fire and to check with the local DNR office to be sure burning is being permitted in your area. Smokers should make sure they use their vehicle ashtrays. Don't toss a lit cigarette out the window while traveling. Remember, as Smokey Bear says, "A tree can make a million matches, but one match can kill a million trees." On April 5, local fire fighters battled a grass fire in Beaver Creek Township, as well as one in Grayling Township.

Lawmakers, educators inspired by service learning

A group of state lawmakers and educators visited Kirtland recently in an effort to explore ways that Michigan colleges and universities can better serve their communities. And they left knowing that the C.O.O.R. district the college serves is in good hands.

"The people who testified today are just seething with passion. They're social entrepreneurs," Rep. Doug Hart (R-Grand Rapids), told reporters following two hours of public testimony. "They're not just speaking from their minds, but from their hearts."

The panel is holding six public hearings around the state on "The Civic Good of Higher Learning." At Kirtland, they heard from Nick Holton, the college's service learning coordinator, who talked about the challenges of serving the state's largest community college district, and how many of the towns it serves are some distance from the college, with few opportunities.

Then the panel heard about Kirtland's nursing students volunteering to help administer vaccines to children around the district. They heard from Martin Kroell of Grayling, Manufacturing Processes Technology student at Kirtland who helped build a replacement flywheel for a generator owned by Gerrish Township Fire Department. The generator, though only one year old, was considered irreparable by the manufacturer, but Kroell's project - guided by instructor Leonard Miller – saved township taxpayers about $10,000.

And they heard from Deborah Smith, a Kirtland student and amother with three children in college who completed three selfdesigned service-learning projects in conjunction with Habitat for Humanity. One project, in which she inventoried all sub-

County, won a DTE Community Luminary Award and was instrumental in the successful launch of Habitat for Humanity projects in Roscommon County.

She did it because she cares. "The degree of civic apathy is huge," she said. "The sense is, a person can't make a difference, but that's not true. It is amazing how much difference one person can make." Hart and the others left inspired.

"It's really fun to hear these stories," he said. "The idea of giving back can be done in almost every conceivable way. We all want some transcendent purpose in live, to help make the world a better place. These people are doing that." Hart's panel includes: John Burkhardt, director of the 26th District); State Rep. Dave Farhat (R-91st District); Dr. Samuel Kirkpatrick, president of Eastern Michigan University; State Rep. Chris Kolb (D-53rd District); and Amy Smitter, executive director of the Michigan Campus Compact, based in Lansing.

Other stops on the tour: Marygrove College in Detroit on March 1; Albion College in Albion and at Eastern Michigan University on March 12; at Grand Rapids Community College on March 26; and at Saginaw Valley State University on April 2.

AuSable River helped make Reading Month fun

Each Monday during March, 'Reading Month," local elementary school students were treated to visits from those knowledgeable of the many attributes of the AuSable River, with the exception of the March 1 kick off with a visit by "The Cat in the Hat" at morning assembly at the AuSable Primary School.

On March 8, the morning assembly featured Joe Smock, Jr. who read Fly-Fishing with Trouttail - A Child's Journey, written by K.H. Lucas. Smock and his second grade son, Nick, demonstrated the tying of a fly, the use of a fly fishing pole as well as the gear/clothing worn by fly fisher-

The March 15 assembly presented AuSable River race enthusiast Jeff Kolka reading the poem Summer Night: Canoeing, written by Barbara Esbensen. Kolka brought his racing canoe and explained the special equipment used, the need for good sleep in whatever you do and safety issues involved in participating in a marathon.

Author Thom Rancour read a draft of his soon to be published book The Legend of Hartwick Pines at the March 22 assembly. The book focuses on the logging era in our area and the use of the AuSable River for logging during this time. First draft illustrations were also shared with students. Watch for the availability of this wonderful legend later this spring.

The March 29 assembly concluded Reading Month with a "Read Along the River" book-it challenge drawing.

During the month of March students were asked to read 28 books at home, (two books per landing if following the canoe marathon), to receive a personal pizza coupon and a chance to win a child's fishing pole.

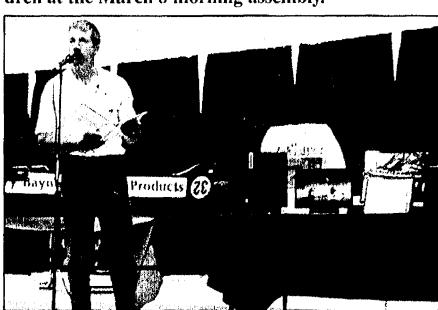

Classrooms were also challenged to read one book per mile or 120 books during the month of March. Classes that met the challenge were entered into a drawing as well. Each student in chosen classes will receive a book for their own personal library collections.

Next year's Reading Month theme will be "Michigan Animals."

Joe Smock and his son, Nick, demonstrated fly-tying for the kids. Joe also read a fly-fishing book for children at the March 8 morning assembly.

Canoe marathon multi-champion Jeff Kolka shared a poem about canoeing on a summer night and talked to the kids about being a marathon paddler.

Author Tom Rancour shared his book, Legend of Hartwick Pines with local elementary school students.

Project TEACH calls on Kirtland educators

A team of educators from Kirtland has been chosen for a national project aimed at preparing math and science teachers for tomorrow's K-12 students.

Kirtland is one of just 18 community colleges around the country chosen from among 48 applicants. Its group consists of Marcell Romancky, math instructor, from St. Helen, Denise Kemp, life sciences instructor, from Luzerne, and Karen Brown, associate dean for math, science and health careers, from Bay City.

They're teamed with Jim McDonald, assistant professor of science education, from Central Michigan University.

The group recently traveled to Washington, D.C. for a conference, during which the team developed an extensive action plan on how to implement the project, entitled: Preparing Science tomorrow's Mathematics Teachers: The Community College Response.

Over the next several months, the team will marshal its efforts to enhance and expand the role that Kirtland, in cooperation with CMU, will play in teacher education.

The effort, sponsored by Project Teach, based in the state of Washington, is part of a continuing initiative to address the critical shortage of math and science teachers at all levels of the American education system.

"It has only been recently that the role of community colleges in the preparation of teachers ahs been recognized at a national level," Project Teach co-directors Bruce Palmquist and Steve Kinholt said in a letter to Kirtland officials notifying them of their selection to the initiative. "Groups such as Phi

Even superstars make mistakes

By Ernie Harwell

In baseball there is an old saying that if you get three hits out of 10 times at bat, you're a big league star. A guy who in his whole career makes seven mistakes out of 10 is considered a superstar.

I think we all have to remember that we all make mistakes. We just have to accept them, hitch up our britches, pull up our socks and go ahead and get to the next project.

A perfectionist really has a tough time in life, because we're all human and we're all going to fall short once in a while. If we just realize that, we can save ourselves a lot of worry and stress that can affect our mental and physical health.

That doesn't mean we don't try to do our best. But if we accept that we can't always be perfect, we can keep our feet on the ground and our heads up. We won't always get a hit, but we can keep on swinging.

And please remember to take care of your health before it's lonngggg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. His latest book, a collection of his baseball columns entitled "Life After Baseball," is available at local bookstores or by calling 1-800-245-5082.

In Mission on a Non-profits benefit from DTE Energy Foundation

The DTE Energy Foundation awarded 425 grants totaling more than $6 million to nonprofit organizations in Michigan in 2003. Grant recipients are selected primarily based upon the Foundation's LEAD program guidelines, which foster Leadership, Education, Achievement, Environment, Development and Diversity in the DTE Energy service territory in Michigan. "These grants reflect the commitment of the DTE Energy Foundation to support programs that help strengthen the fabric of our communities," said Fred Shell, vice president, Corporate and Governmental Affairs, DTE Energy and president of the DTE Energy Foundation. "As we move forward into 2004, we will continue to focus on the Foundation's strategic plan and build awareness of the LEAD program criteria."

In 2003, the Foundation introduced two new grant programs, Excellence the Achieving Awards and the Community Luminary Awards.

The Achieving Excellence Awards recognized community organizations for their commitment to promoting excellence and for their ability to maximize the value of time, money and effort. The grants totaling $300,000 were awarded to Mayor's Time, Woodward Avenue Action Association, Boys and Girls Club of Southeastern Michigan, Michigan Opera Theatre, and the Inner City Christian Federation in Grand Rapids. This program will continue in 2004.

Also in 2003, the Foundation Nonprofit Michigan Association (MNA) joined to honor the centennial of Detroit Edison, DTE Energy's electric subsidiary, by awarding one hundred Community Luminary Awards.

The award recognized outstanding leaders and volunteers for their dedication in contributing to the development of Michigan communities and for inspiring others around them. The award included a $1,000 contribution to the winner's designated non-profit organization located in Michigan.

During the past holiday season, the DTE Energy Foundation again expanded its Matching Gifts program to include 88 charities that serve the community's least fortunate residents those for whom food and shelter are continuing issues. This program recognizes and rewards DTE Energy employees' generosity by matching their contributions one-to-one.

Examples of other grants awarded in 2003 include: Leadership

The treasurer is the chief financial officer of the county's funds. He or she oversees the management of the county's investments, property tax rolls and expenditures. The treasurer works with the county controller and county board to ensure funds are allocated properly and assists an outside accounting firm in the county's annual budget audit.

The prosecutor is the chief law enforcement officer of the county. He or she decides, from evidence presented to the prosecutor's office, whether a warrant for arrest will be issued in a criminal case, whether a misdemeanor or felony. The prosecutor represents the State of Michigan in criminal cases, must be a licensed attorney and a member of the Michigan Bar Association.

County Commissioners meet once each month as Committees of the Whole (board) and once each month for regular board meeting. Special meetings may also be called to address urgent or special issues.

Commissioners oversee all functions of county business, including funding of each department and court functions through the creation each fiscal year of a county budget. They decide on the need for the creation of a new ordinance, amendment to or abolishment of part or all of an old ordinance. They are ultimately responsible for the county's finances and maintenance of its assets.

Commissioners appoint members of the community to serve local agencies such as the library board, commission on aging, housing commission, planning commission and zoning board of appeals.

Commissioners serve as liaisons to several boards and voting members on regional boards for the health department, community mental health and others that serve the residents of Crawford County. The county commissioners are also tasked with contract negotiations of bargaining units within the county structure, including law enforcement and 911 Dispatch.

Finally, commissioners serve as ambassadors and advocates for the county during travels to other counties and Lansing. They should keep in contact with state and federal legislators to ensure the interest of their constituents remains in the forefront of the minds of those who serve at the state and federal levels.

Members of the Crawford County Road Commission meet twice each month and oversee the budget and management of repairs to hundreds of miles of roads under its jurisdiction. All county elected officials are entitled to medical insurance through Blue Cross Blue Shield and receive no per diem for meeting attendance, nor mileage allowances.

Candidates for all county offices have the option of collecting signatures on nominating petitions or paying a $100 filing fee that is refundable if the candidate wins election. Each candidate must also file an Affidavit of Identity with the county clerk by the May 11 deadline to have their name appear on the August Primary ballot Nominating petitions and affidavits are available at the county clerk's office located in the county building at 200 West Michigan Avenue in Grayling.

Questions about filing for candidacy may be directed to Crawford County Clerk/Register of Deeds Sandra Moore at 344-3200.

Local chapter of MTA formed

by Cheryll Ruley Staff Writer

Supervisors and representatives of all six townships in Crawford County have been months to create a local chapter of the Michigan Townships Association (MTA).

The MTA is the strongest lobbying group townships have, said Crawford County Chapter MTA President Lee Riley, who is also Beaver Creek Township's Supervisor.

Statewide, MTA represents 1,242 townships and over 6,500 elected township officials. Its lobbyists encourage the adoption of legislation in Lansing that best benefits townships and their residents. MTA offers educational and training opportunities for elected township officials through certification workshops, conventions and conferences throughout the state.

In addition, MTA also provides forms, example ordinances and bylaws and maintains a bureau of information and research accessible to township officials and others, including at its web site: www.michigantownships.org.

At the local chapter's most recent meeting on March 31 at the Beaver Creek Township Hall, 13 township board members from around the county met, including all supervisors. The meeting also included a visit from Crawford County Road Commissioner Jim Burtch and Managing Director Don Babcock who discussed road projects and answered questions.

The local MTA chapter's goal is to build and maintain a cooperative relationship between all six townships to share ideas, discuss resolutions to problems common in township governance.

by Susan Warrington Staff Writer

Michigan's two U.S. Senators recently announced that five communities received grant money to put a police officer into schools. The police officers will have the opportunity to meet and work with school staff, teachers and students.

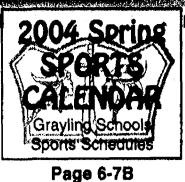

The awards came from a program in the Office of Community Oriented Policing Service (COPS) which encourages the use of school resource officers to help prevent school violence and in general improve school and student safety.

Unfortunately, Crawford County was not one of the five. Although there are currently police officers in each building in the school district, that will end October 31, 2005 unless new grant monies can be found.

Sheriff Kirk Wakefield said he has been applying for grants but has had no success, so far. He feels it is a valuable program and would hate to see it end. Although with the tough economic times it has become extremely hard to get grant money, he said he will keep trying to get a continuation of the grant. He added that a great many police agencies are also in dire need of more funding.

Vikings to field a young squad in 2004; new coach takes over team

The GHS varsity girls softball program, which plays its first games of the new season next week, will field a young team in 2004. The squad will consist of four seniors, seven juniors, and three sophomores, but many of them played at the varsity level last season.

"It's a young team, but quite a few of our underclassmen played varsity ball last year as freshmen and sophomores, so we actually have quite a bit of varsity experience despite having only four seniors on the roster," Coach Caleb Casey said.

The team's seniors are: Laura Gorski (P, 1B), Emily Harvey (2B, OF), Skylynn Palmer (3B, SS), and Heather Vandecar (1B).
Juniors include: Kelly Dunckley (2B, 1B), Jenni Emmons (OF, 2B), Angeanette Lovely (OF, 2B), Heather Metzer (SS, 3B), Erica Parker (OF), Ashley Prosser (IF), and Samanthia Stephan (OF).

The team's three sophomores are: Katie Baynham (C, OF, P), Jessica Henderson (C, SS), and Chelsea Wolcott (P, OF).

"The girls have shown a lot of energy and enthusiasm so far," Coach Casey said. "Our team unity is pretty solid."

The team started practicing indoors on March 15 and was able to get outside for practice all of last week.

Softball Preview 2004

"We were able to practice outside on our field for three days last week, and - even though we still have a lot to go over yet – that should really help. Three days may not seem like much, but in a lot of previous years they weren't able to get on the field at all before spring break. Some teams didn't get out onto the field until their first game, so in that respect, we were fortunate this year. Practicing in the gym isn't much of a substitute for playing on the diamond," Coach Casey said.

"I think it would help our team a lot to get a couple wins early in the season and build on them, but either way, we'll get better and better as the season progresses. This team has talent and I think we might surprise some people,"

Coach Casey said.

Casey, who has been a Crawford County Avalanche Staff Writer for more than six years, is in his first year coaching the varsity softball team. It is his first time coaching a high school sports team.

"They needed a coach and I offered to do it. That's the short version," Coach Casey said. "I took the job just a few hours prior to the fourth day of tryouts, but the transition was actually pretty smooth. Being familiar with a lot of the players – and them being familiar with me through my job at the newspaper was a big plus."

(Casey covers sports for the Crawford County Avalanche.)

"What I bring to the job is a lifetime of baseball and softball experience. I've been playing ball ever since I was old enough to walk. I played little league baseball in Grayling and I played four years of high school baseball at GHS. For the last six or seven years, I've been playing in two, sometimes three, different softball leagues every summer, I play in men's leagues, co-ed leagues, tournaments - whatever I can," Coach Casey said. "I love the game."

· The varsity team's assistant coaches are Tanya Wolcott and Arica D'Amour. Wolcott has coached softball, volleyball, and girls golf and D'Amour, who played four years of softball at GHS a few years ago, served as a varsity assistant last year.

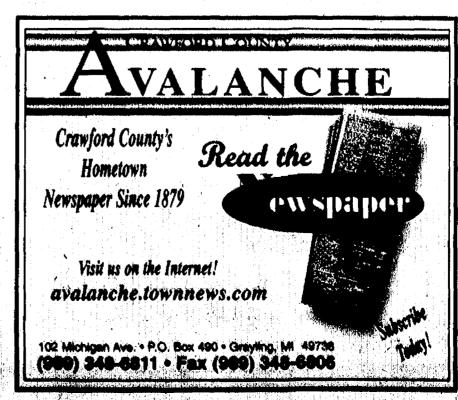

"Tanya and Arica have both helped a lot. The players respect them, and they bring a lot of softball knowledge and experience to the team. I'm glad to have them," Coach Casey said.

The varsity team is scheduled to play its first doubleheader of 2004 on Tuesday, April 13, at 4:30 p.m. at GHS. The team plays at Roscommon on Thursday, April 15, at 4 p.m. Grayling High School's junior varsity softball team is being coached by Loren Bass this year. Bass also coached the JV squad last season. The JV team will open its 2004 campaign with a game at Gaylord on Tuesday, April 13, at 4:30 p.m.

The JV Vikings will host Rescommon on Thursday, April 15, at 4 p.m.

NOTICE AND OPPORTUNITY TO COMMENT USDA - Forest Service Huron- Manistee National Forests Mio Ranger District M-72/M-18 Communication Site Project

The Mio Ranger District is considering a proposal to install and maintain a new cellular tower and antenna near the intersection of M72/M-18, South Branch Township, Crawford County, Michigan, NESE, Section26, T26N, R1W. If allowed, a special use permit for use and occupancy of National Forest System lands as a communication site would be issued, fall 2004, with installation to soon follow. The Forest would also designate the proposed location a communication site in the Huron-Manistee National Forests Land and Resource Management Plan which requires identifying other compatible types of communication uses that could be permitted for further development if requests were received.

An application was submitted for a special use permit to install a tower and cellular antenna on National Forest System lands. The objective of the project is to fill a cellular coverage gap between Grayling and Luzerne, Michigan. The proposal includes construction a typical fenced cellular compound approximately 100ft. x 100ft., erect a 250 ft. self-supporting lattice type, communication tower with cellular antennae attachments, and installing a pre-fabricated 12ft x 28ft. equipment building. The tower and equipment building would be constructed and available to accommodate additional cellular providers (co-locators) if requested.

Ground disturbance would be kept to a minimum utilizing an existing two-track road for access. Typical construction equipment would be used for installation including excavators, dozers, cranes, etc. and service trucks for testing and maintenance. Electricity and telephone utilities are required and would be brought to the site along the existing road. All utility lines would be buried.

Once constructed, the site would function as a remote station, and not be staffed. Service trucks and personnel would access the site two to four times per month to perform routine testing and /or maintenance.

The tower is located approximately one-third mile from M-72 and M-18. The tower would be visible across the horizon as it would rise approximately 150ft, above the tree tops. The proposed location is requested by the Forest Service to reduced the visual impacts of a tower so close to M-72 and still meet the cellular coverage gap objective.

This notice is an opportunity to comment, offer information, and to state concerns about the communication site, the cellular antenna or its location, as directed in 36 CFR 215. Please send comments to Michael J. Weber, District Ranger, U.S.D.A. Forest Service, 401 N Court, Mio, MI 48647, or via e-mail; comments-eastern-huron-manistee-mio @fs.fed.us within 30 calendar days following publication in the Oscoda County Heraid. #### Potholes Can Cause Serious Car Damage

(NUI) – Most drivers are familiar with the startling jolt associated with running over a pothole unexpectedly. For some, it also means costly automotive repairs.

"The appearance of potholes brings the potential of damage to vehicle suspension components," said John Nielsen, director of AAA's Approved Auto Repair Network.

AAA, the nation's largest organization for motorists, offers these tips to help protect vehicles against the jarring experience of a pothole encounter:

- Maintain full air pressure in all tires to provide as much cushion as possible between the pothole and the rim of the tire. Consult the vehicle owner's manual for the correct pressure.
- Watch for potholes by leaving plenty of space between your vehicle and the one in front of you. Before swerving around a pothole, be sure to check surrounding traffic.
- If a pothole cannot be avoided, slow down. Hitting a pothole at high speed increases the chance of damage to tires, wheels, shocks, struts or springs.
- When driving over a potholefilled road, hold the steering wheel firmly to avoid losing control.
- Do not brake when directly over a pothole. Applying the brakes causes the car's weight to shift to the front of the wheel and can increase damage from the impact.
- Beware of water that may be concealing a deep pothole.

"Hitting even one especially severe pothole could alter the alignment of a wheel and cause uneven tire wear," Nielsen said. "Uneven tire wear means the tire will need to be replaced sooner than necessary."

A broken shock or strut from a pothole encounter could alter the steering and handling of a vehicle and create dangers when driving at high speeds or in tight corners. Broken suspension components should be remedied immediately, he said.

AAA recommends that motorists who suspect their vehicle may have been damaged by a pothole should take it to an AAA approved auto repair facility where it can be carefully inspected and serviced if necessary.

There are more than 7,500 AAA approved repair facilities in North America. The names and addresses of these shops can be located at www.aaa.com, or by calling your local AAA motor club.

Replace Wiper Blades For Safety

Are you tired of smearing, screeching and chattering wiper blades? Do you dread another rainy drive without the benefit of an unobstructed view of the road? Buy a set of wiper blades and install them yourself. It takes only a few minutes, and simple instructions are right on the box.

Before you begin, here are two suggestions:

• You can make the wiper blade more accessible by stopping it in the most convenient location with the ignition key. Don't use the wiper on-off switch, as it causes the wipers to stop in their parked position.

• Look for replacement rubber squeegees to avoid the cost of buying the entire blade and holder. They're usually easily installed and can restore wiping action, as long as the rest of the components are OK.

Fifteen percent of the vehicles passing through check lanes during National Car Care Month failed because of worn windshield wiper blades. The normal life expectancy of the rubber squeegee is six to 12 months. That's reason enough to learn to do it yourself.

Tips To Get Your Car Ready For A Summer Trip

(NUI) – With continued uncertainty overseas, the old-fashioned auto vacation is bound to be popular once again this summer.

Nowadays, sport utility vehicles and big pickups have replaced the wood-paneled station wagon, but some things remain the same. Good advance planning can make your trip smoother and more enjoyable.

Of course, these preparations should include vehicle maintenance. The experts at the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence offer the following tips on getting your vehicle ready for summer:

- Read the owner's manual and follow the recommended service schedules.
- Flush and refill the cooling system according to the service manual's recommendations. The level, condition and concentration of the coolant should be checked periodically. Let the engine cool down before removing the radiator cap.

- Have drivability problems, including hard starts, rough idling and stalling, corrected.
- If you are not a do-it-yourselfer, look for repair facilities that employ ASE-certified automotive technicians.
- The tightness and condition of belts, clamps and hoses should be checked by a qualified auto technician.
- Have a marginally operating air-conditioning system serviced by a qualified technician.
- Change the oil and oil filter as specified in the owner's manual. Properly dispose of used oil.
- • Replace other filters, like the air and fuel filters, as recommended.
- Check the condition of all tires, including the spare. Let tires "cool down" before checking air pressure.
- Inspect all lights and bulbs; replace burned out bulbs.

• Replace worn wiper blades, and keep plenty of washer solvent on hand to fight summer's dust and insects.

For a free brochure with summertime automotive tips, send a self-addressed, stamped, long envelope to: ASE Summer Brochure, Department NU-104, 101 Blue Seal Drive, S.E., Suite 101, Leesburg, VA 20175, or visit www.ase.com for more information.

ASE was founded in 1972 as a nonprofit, independent organization dedicated to improving the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians. ASE-certified technicians wear blue and white ASE shoulder insignia and carry credentials listing their exact areas of certification. Their employers often display the blue and white ASE sign.

Learn The Truth Behind Common Car Care Beliefs

(NUI) – True or false: You should always warm up your car before driving on a cold day. False. Although most drivers may consider this to be true, it can actually cause damage to vehicles if done continuously.

To shed some light on the truth behind common automotive beliefs, the service specialists at Chrysler, Jeep and Dodge provide their car-care expertise on a few important topics:

Belief: Do not blast your vehicle's air conditioner when sitting in traffic or while driving at more than 60 mph.

Reality: False. Vehicle heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems are engineered and tested to operate in even the most severe types of driving environments.

Belief: You can check your tire tread with a penny.

Reality: True. Simply pinch a penny between your thumb and forefinger so Lincoln's head is showing. Insert the penny into a tire-tread groove. If the tire covers any part of Lincoln's head, then your tires should have a safe amount of tread. Check several locations on each tire to test for uneven wear.

Belief: If you still have fuel in your gas tank when you refill it, use the same grade that is currently in the tank. Reality: False. It will not harm your vehicle if you mix different grades of unleaded fuel.

Belief: Avoid keeping your vehicle at a constant speed during the first 500 miles of its life.

Reality: Maybe. Most new vehicles no longer require drivers to vary their speeds during the first 500 miles, known as the "break-in period." If your vehicle does require a break-in period, varying your speed by several miles per hour should do the trick.

Belief: Premium gasoline is best for your vehicle.

Reality: Maybe. Most cars are built to run on regular-grade fuel, so using premium fuel will not improve the car's performance. In fact, using premium fuel in a vehicle that was not designed for it can harm the vehicle's performance and fuel efficiency. Check your owner's manual for recommended fuel grade.

Belief: City dwellers dealing with narrow streets should not park with two wheels on the curb; it will destroy the vehicle's alignment.

Reality: True if done continuously. This practice can cause excessive wear or stress to tie rods and suspension bushings.

Belief: If the steering wheel shakes when you drive, something is wrong with your brakes.

Reality: Maybe. If the wheel shakes as you depress the brake pedal, it may mean your brake rotors are unbalanced. If the wheel shakes as you drive, it may be a wheel balance or steering-related issue.

Car Repair Costs Increase If Maintenance Is Ignored

(NUI) – For most people, their automobile, truck or sport utility vehicle represents the secondlargest purchase they will ever make, behind only their house. So, it makes good sense to protect that investment through regular maintenance.

But according to automotive technicians certified by the National Institute Automotive Service Excellence (ASE), motorists are not doing a very good job of maintaining their vehicles.

A poll of ASE-certified auto technicians revealed that only 2 percent of customers "always" followed their advice, while just 29 percent of motorists "usually" followed the experts' advice.

Considering the cost and complexity of today's vehicles, consumers could spend more money in the end when they neglect routine maintenance, note ASE officials. They point out that almost two-thirds of the technicians surveyed said consumers could take care of their maintenance and repair needs for less than $500 annually.

What items specifically are consumers neglecting? Here are the most neglected items, according to ASE-certified automotive technicians: lube, oil, and filters; transmission; tires; cooling system; brakes; belts; and tune-up.

The downside of all this neglect is shortened vehicle life, compromised safety, lessened gasoline mileage and the likelihood of increased repair costs due to minor repairs ballooning into big-ticket overhauls. For those who do take their vehicles in for routine maintenance and service, there's a big payoff. A majority of technicians said motorists could extend vehicle life by 50 percent or more.

The technicians polled are among the industry's best, having taken and passed independent national certification exams. Slightly over a third (36 percent) of the participants were college graduates, and another third (37 percent) had graduated from a technical school, while 90 percent use a computer on the

"Don't blame your car," says Rich White, a Car Care Council But it becomes more critical aspokesperson. "It can't drive itself to the shop and ask for an oil change or new spark plugs."

> Considering how dependent we are on our cars, it's surprising how we take them for granted. An old battery or badly worn tire has its way of forewarning us that it's going to let us down, but we tend to wait for the inevitable.

"Nearly eighty percent of the thousands of vehicles driven through our check lanes during National Car Care Month fail inspection. Most discrepancies are due to owner neglect and can be corrected at little or no cost."

The Council stresses the value of periodic checkups. This not only helps prevent traffic jams due to mechanical breakdowns, but also ensures the optimum safety and efficiency of our vehicles.

Five Tips For Getting Out Of Car Trouble

(NUI) - Do you know what to do when your car sputters and finally dies?

This year, AAA expects to respond to approximately 28 million calls for road service from a membership of more than 45 million car owners. In addition, another 40 million calls for road service will be made this year by other car owners, AAA estimates.

To educate motorists on steps to take when car trouble occurs, a select group of tow truck operators recently recognized by AAA as "Highway Heroes" offers these tips:

- Know before you go. Make sure your vehicle is inspected and maintained by a qualified technician at least annually and before any long-distance trip.
- Stay alert to your location at all times. The ability to accurately describe where your vehicle is, including the name or number of the road and an easily recognized landmark, is one of the keys to speedy rescue and recov-

- Know how to summon help safely. A cellular telephone is a necessity for every motorist. The ability to quickly contact your motor club, law enforcement authorities or emergency medical personnel is critical to staying secure on the roadway.
- Remain calm and keep a clear head. The overwhelming majority of all road service situations are easily handled by professional drivers with the right equipment. AAA's tow truck operators pride themselves on providing quick and reliable member services.

Does On The Road Again Mean On The Phone Again ?

These days you see more cell phones than ever, and many of them will be on the ears of people behind the wheel of an automobile. Some of these phones and their owners will wind up in car crashes, but don't be too quick to blame the cell phone. Blame the drivers who use them in the wrong place at the wrong time, allowing conversations to divert their attention from the · road.

"Hands-free devices make it easy to eliminate reaching and dialing, but it's not about having your hands free," said Rich White, a spokesman for the Car Care Council. "It's about having your mind free to concentrate on rors.

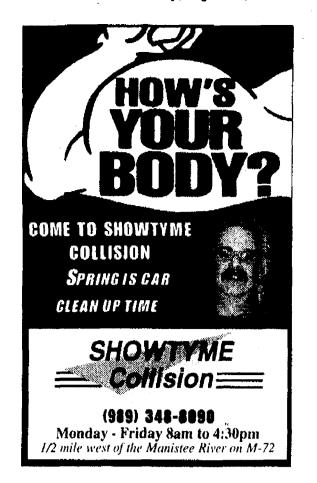

driving. It's best to pull off the road, or even better, call back

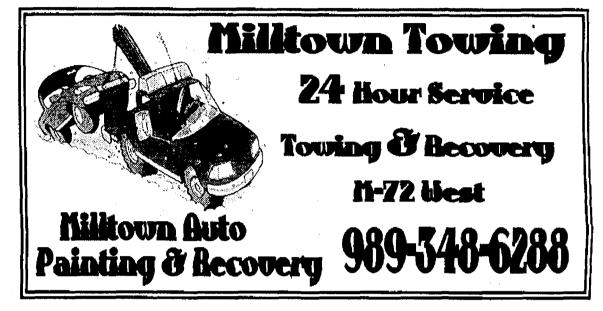

There are a variety of other situations that can distract motorists, whether they're en route to their vacation destination, or simply driving across town. Many of these can be addressed with little or no money. Examples include:

- Things hanging from the rear view mirror – Take them down. They can obstruct vision out of both the front and rear windows.
- A damaged rear view mirror - Get it repaired. Many of your driving decisions are only as good as the view from your mir-
- Worn windshield wiper blades – Replace them. Smeared glass and chattering blades can be unnerving. Blades are inexpensive and you can probably do the installation yourself.
- Torn or frayed car mats Get new ones. The old mats can catch a heel, diverting your attention and/or interfering with the motion of your foot on the accelerator or brake.
- Droopy headliner Purchase a kit to reattach it or buy a new one. Material draping down in the back obstructs the view out of the rear window.
- Keeping a pet in its place away from the driver.

Determine what annoyances

you can fix yourself and which ones need professional attention, says the Car Care Council. Take care of them as soon as possible; to delay could mean an accident waiting to happen.

Spring Showers Bring Driving Safety Hazards

Worn out tires and windshield wiper blades are symptoms of with the pavement, similar to are caused by worn windshield neglected vehicle maintenance that put drivers and passengers at serious risk during the typically rainy months of spring.

Thin tire treads create hazardous driving conditions when water builds up on the roadway, according to the Car Care Council. Deep tread accommodates accumulated water; thin tread does not. Thin tread causes the tire to hydroplane - ride up driving on ice.

The simplest way to check tire tread depth is with a penny. Insert the penny into the grooves of the tread. If you are able to see all of Lincoln's head, the tire needs replacement.

Rainy weather also affects driver visibility. Because 90 percent of driving decisions depend on good vision, a clean windshield is imperative. Streaking on a film of water, losing contact and smearing impair vision and blades.

> One out of every five vehicles that went through the Carl Care Council's check lanes had worn wiper blades.

> "Replacing worn wiper blades is easy and inexpensive," said Rich White of the Car Care Council. "Why put it off until there's a downpour and your blades are chattering and smearing the windshield?"

Rust: A Nasty Four-Letter Word

Henry Ford told buyers of his Model T they could select any color as long as it's black. Today we see cars in any of 7,000 hues, including shades of rust that won't appear on color chips in new car literature.

"Serious rust damage, including a hole right through the metal, can begin with a minor scratch in a parking lot from a shopping cart," said Rich White of the Car Care Council. "Steel is strong and lasts a lifetime when it's protected, but when that protection is invaded, the metal is exposed to the elements. That's when rust begins its invasion."

Cover paint chips as quickly as possible, White recommends. For a quick fix until you can get some touchup supplies, dab a little clear nail polish on the scratch. Touchup paint can be found for virtually every vehicle ever built, including antiques. Use the paint code number shown on the identification plate basic rules of body, and paint located on a door jamb, in the glove box, under the hood, in the trunk under the carpet next to the spare or wherever else the car maker has hidden it. The owner's manual will tell you how to find it.

"Some uncommon colors will have to be ordered where auto parts are sold or from the Internet. Also available are scratch repair kits including everything needed from preparation to finishing a deep scratch," White said.

Small dents can be fixed with paintless dent repair, a service found either through local automotive suppliers, the classified section of the phone book or on the Internet.

Like so many aspects of car care, preventive maintenance is much easier and beneficial than measures. corrective Maintaining the original integrity of the finish keeps the vehicle in "like new" condition. The maintenance apply:

Avoid parking in the hot sun; it can damage interior surfaces as well as the exterior. Wash the vehicle frequently, including areas underneath, with mild, safe products. Select and use cleaners and waxes carefully. A cleaner that is effective for one type of finish could be disastrous for another. Consult the vehicle owner's manual to be sure.

Five Things You Should Know About Auto Insurance

(NUI) - Do you know how well your auto insurance policy would cover you, your vehicle or a third party if you were involved in an accident? Are you carrying enough or even too much coverage? According to a survey done by the Progressive group of insurance companies, most consumers don't take time to regularly review their auto insurance policy to be certain that it still reflects their needs. Having a better understanding of some basic auto insurance principles and terms could help you be certain you're protected - and could even save you money.

Auto insurance is complicated. Here are five things you should know.

1. Types of coverage. There are two general "types" of coverage available to you. One, generally referred to as firstparty coverages, protects you and your vehicle. First-party coverages include comprehensive, collision and primary medical, including medical payments and, in some states, Personal Injury Protection (PIP).

party coverages, protects those to whom you might cause injury. Third-party coverages provide protection for bodily injury and property damage you cause to others.

2. Use your deductible to save money. If you purchase comprehensive and collision coverage, you'll be asked to select a "deductible" amount, that is, the amount you'll pay on a claim before the insurance company begins paying. When selecting your deductible level, consider how much you could afford in the event of a crash. Most people select $500 deductibles because a higher deductible helps to keep the overall cost of auto insurance down.

According to the Insurance Information Institute, increasing your deductible from $250 to $500 can save you up to 20 percent on comprehensive and collision coverage.

3. Make sure your policy reflects your needs. Have you recently married, divorced, moved, or have a teenage son or The second type, called third-daughter who is now driving? www.newsusa.com)

Speak with your independent agent or insurance company to be sure that the coverage you purchased still reflects your needs.

4. Prices vary. Auto insurance rates are based on each company's expected cost of doing business, which includes the cost of paying claims. The claims data used by each company generally includes the number of accidents and the cost of those accidents. And, the claims data used varies from company to company, which leads to a large spread in rates available to the same consumer for comparable coverages. In fact, in a study of rates provided to more than 100,000 consumers, Progressive found that the average difference in premium based on a six-month policy for the same driver with comparable coverages was nearly $600 from company to company.

Fuel Savings Tips As Gas Prices Soar

With gas prices exceeding two dollars a gallon in many parts of the country, the Car Care Council is offering gassaving maintenance and driving tips that really work.

"Millions of dollars worth of gasoline is wasted every day by motorists, because simple and inexpensive vehicle maintenance is neglected," said Rich White, executive director of the Car Care Council. "Loose or missing gas caps, under-inflated tires, worn spark plugs and dirty air filters all contribute to poor fuel economy."

The Car Care Council offers these fuel-saving tips:

- Check vehicle gas caps About 17 percent of the vehicles on the roads have gas caps that are either damaged, loose or are missing altogether, causing 147 million gallons of gas to vaporize every year..
- Make sure tires are properly inflated – When tires aren't inflated properly, it's like dri-

- Replace spark plugs regularly – A vehicle can have either four, six or eight spark plugs, which fire as many as 3 million times every 1,000 miles. That results in a lot of heat and electrical and chemical erosion. A dirty spark plug plus causes misfiring, which wastes fuel. Spark plugs need to be replaced regularly.
- Replace dirty air filters -An air filter that is clogged with dirt, dust and bugs chokes off the air and creates a "rich" mixture - too much gas being burned for the amount of air, which wastes gas and causes the engine to lose power. Replacing a clogged air filter can improve gas mileage by as much as 10 percent, saving about 15 cents a gallon.

Fuel-saving driving tips include:

• Don't be an aggressive driver - Aggressive driving can lower gas mileage by as much ving with the parking brake on as 33 percent on the highway and can cost a mile or two per and 5 percent on city streets.

Drop in The Bucket "Among the six worst offenders are underinflated tires and incorrect wheel alignment, conditions which increase rolling resistance. Like driving with the parking brake not fully released, it can cost a mile or two per gallon on a car that normally delivers 20 miles per gallon. "Among other gas guzzlers," said White, "are dirty oil, a mile per gallon; a slipping automatic transmission, another mile per gallon and as much as two mpg for a cooling system thermostat that > cold. "Finally, there could be a malfunction of one or more components in the fuel, ignition or emission control systems, especially critical in cold weather driving. The fuel penalty for just one misfiring spark plug is two or three miles per gallon.

> causes the engine to run too

"Combining all of these discrepancies into one vehicle, the cost of wasted fuel easily could exceed recent increases in pump prices," said White. "It's what being car care aware is all about."

 Avoid excessive idling – Sitting idle gets zero miles per gallon. Letting the vehicle warm up for one to two minutes is sufficient.

• Observe the speed limit – Gas mileage decreases rapidly at speeds above 60 mph. Each mile driven over 60 will result in an additional 10 to 34 cents per gallon. To maintain a constant speed on the highway, cruise control is recommended.

Some of the above statistics were gathered from a U.S. Department of Energy Web site, www.fueleconomy.gov.

147 Million Gallons Of Wasted Gas? It s A

Loose gas caps, underinflated tires, faulty thermostats, worn spark plugs, malfunctioning engine controls, poor wheel alignment and the list goes on. These are among the conditions that daily cost consumers millions of dollars in wasted fuel.

"Something as innocuous as an improperly tightened gas cap, for example, or one that's missing or defective, might seem a minor factor," said Rich White of the Car Care Council. "But consider that 17 percent of the vehicles on U.S. highways have either misused or missing gas caps, causing 147,000,000 gallons of gas per year to vaporize into the atmosphere (source: Service Magazine, Tech September 2000).

"To the maxim 'waste not, want not,' we need to add 'be car care aware, because most drivers are unaware of the economic consequences of neglected maintenance."

White said the nearly 150 million gallons of gas out of the filler cap are literally a drop in the bucket of waste.

Check Your Cool Quotient With A Cooling System Quiz

A fairly common household tiple-choice quiz: disaster is flooding of the laundry area due to a split hose on a washing machine. Also vulnerable to a similar disaster is your car. A bulging radiator hose, carrying hot water (coolant) under pressure, can rupture.

Cooling system neglect is cited as a principal reason for mechanical failure of a vehicle. In addition to the danger and inconvenience of a breakdown, the damage to the engine and transmission can add up to thousands of dollars.

Discovering a leaking radiator, hose connection, a sticking thermostat or other cooling system component that's on "borrowed time" can save the life of one's engine.

To underscore the importance of proper care of the cooling system, the Council offers this mul-

See how much you know about this vital engine system.

Cooling system quiz

- 1. For maximum freeze protection antifreeze mixture should
- a. half anti-freeze and half water;
- b. pure antifreeze;
- c. 70% anti-freeze, 30% water.
- 2. In the cooling system the thermostat:
- a. controls engine temperature; b. works the air conditioner;
- c modulates the diodes.
- 3. A radiator cap is designed to: a. keep water from sloshing out of the radiator;
- b. keep the cooling system operating at a specified pressure;
- c. last indefinitely.
- 4. A broken drive belt can cause:
- a. overheating;

b. loss of power steering;

- c. dead battery.
- 5. Cooling systems on many cars today:
  - a. have no water pump;
- b. never need to be flushed;
- c. are equipped with an electric fan on the radiator.

Answers to Cooling System Quiz: 1. (C) is correct, although a 50/50 solution is adequate for most climates, protecting to -340 F. Never use pure antifreeze. 2. (A) is correct. As stated above, a faulty thermostat, causing an engine to run too hot or too cold, can damage the engine. 3. (B) is correct. And when replacing the cap, be sure to install the right one for your vehicle. Pressure recommendations vary. 4. Because all three functions are dependent upon the drive belt (or belts) all three answers are correct. 5. (C) is correct.

Hot Weather The True Culprit Behind Car Battery Trouble

Summer is the season for major car-battery problems. Heat, not cold, shortens battery life, says the Car Care Council.

Excessive heat and overcharging are the two main reasons for shortened battery life. Heat causes battery fluid to evaporate, this damaging the internal structure of the battery. A malfunctioning component in the charging system, usually the voltage regulator, allows too high a charging rate. That's slow death for a battery.

True, there are more road service calls in cold weather for dead batteries that cause starting failure. That's when a battery's output is diminished because of sluggish electro-chemical action that gives the battery its power. Also, colder temperatures increase thickness of the engine oil, making the engine harder to turn over. These factors lead to harder starting.

"An average of one out of four vehicles gets a new battery every year," said Rich White, executive director of the Car Care Council. "Sooner or later all batteries have to be replaced, but having to so prematurely can involve more than the cost of a road service call and a new battery, it can be inconvenient as well."

To get the most life out of a battery, White suggests the follow-

- Be sure the electrical system is charging at the correct rate; overcharging can damage a battery as quickly as undercharging.
- If your battery is the type that needs to be topped off, check it regularly, especially in hot weather. Add distilled water when necessary.
- Always replace a battery with one that's rated at least as high as the one originally specified.
- Keep the top of the battery clean. Dirt becomes a conductor, which drains battery power. Further, as corrosion accumulates on battery terminals it becomes an insulator, inhibiting current

The Road To A Long-Lasting Auto

Auto technicians say the key to keeping vehicles running welltoday and down the road-is routine maintenance. Yet many drivers tend to stall when it comes to keeping up with some everyday auto-basics.

A recent survey by the Car Care Council found:

- 27 percent of cars had low or dirty engine oil.
- 23 percent had low tire pressure.
- 26 percent had inadequate cooling protection.
  - 21 percent needed new belts.
- 17 percent had dirty air filters.
- 11 percent had low or contaminated brake fluid.

To help drivers keep their cars up to par, the council promotes programs such as National Car Care Month in April, to call attention to the benefits of regular vehicle care. During the month of April, vehicle inspection events are held in many communities.

The inspections include volunteers checking fluid levels, tires, lights and other system components. After the inspections are complete, volunteers motorists review any problems that may have been found and motorists receive information about proper vehicle maintenance and repair.

The inspections are usually held in parking lots at shopping malls, schools and businesses and they're generally sponsored by area repair facilities and autoshops, as well as other businesses, civic groups and radio stations.
